HEAD COACH DAVID DURDEN

FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND • UC-IRVINE '98

David Durden was hired as Maryland's new head coach for its men's and women's swimming programs on August 18, 2005.

"Having an opportunity to get my first head coaching job at one of the top spots in the Atlantic Coast Conference is great," said Durden.

Durden spent the last five seasons at Auburn University, including the last season as the assistant head men's coach for the 2005 NCAA National Championship Team. Prior to that, he was an assistant coach for both the men's and women's programs at Auburn.

"We feel that we've found an outstanding coach who knows what it takes to establish and lead a winning program," said Associate Athletics Director Troy Tucker. "He shares our values related to the balance between athletics, academics and student-athlete welfare."

In his time at Auburn, the Tiger men's and women's teams won six national team championships - the men winning in 2003, 2004 and 2005, and the women winning in 2002, 2003 and 2004. The Auburn women finished second at the NCAA Nationals in 2005.

Durden has also spent time at Auburn as the primary coach for a number of world-class, postgraduate swimmers who were preparing for World Championship and World University Games teams. He was the primary coach for multiple World Record Holders and NCAA Record Holders as well as the men's recruiting coordinator.

In 2004, Durden coached three swimmers who represented the United States at the Olympic Games. Durden served as the head coach for the Panama team at the 2004 Olympic Games and the 2003 Pan-American Games.

He is a NCAA Division I Certified Coach, a member of U.S. Swimming and a member of the American Swimming Coaches Association. For the past five years, he has been involved with the swim camps at Auburn, serving as the director last season.

Before coaching at Auburn, Durden served as an assistant for Irvine Novaquatics and Dr. Dave Salo, where he assisted in general coaching with the Olympic Trials Group and helped place four swimmers on the 2000 U.S. Olympic Team.

Durden is a 1998 graduate of the University of California-Irvine and earned a degree in electrical engineering.

GIGI DETOLL IS THE ONLY RETURNING ACC CHAMPION ON THE MARYLAND SQUAD, WINNING THE 100 FLY AT THE 2005 ACC CHAMPIONSHIPS.

COACHING STAFF

MIKE TOBER

DIVING COACH
THIRD SEASON AT MARYLAND
N.C. STATE '78

Mike Tober is in his third season as diving coach for both the men's and women's teams at Maryland. Tober returned to College Park for the 2003-2004 season after a 10-year hiatus; he coached the Terrapin divers from 1982-93. During that time, he was also the head coach of the Montgomery Dive Club.

Tober joined the University of Miami in1993, and served as assistant diving coach there for three years. He most recently served as the diving coach for four years at Indian River Community College in Ft. Pierce, Fla.

Tober was a USA National Team Coach in 1995-96 and PDCA All-America Coach from 1990-92. He was named NJCAA Diving Coach of the Year in 1999-00 while at Indian River.

A diver at N.C. State, Tober was a five-time ACC champion, an NCAA All-American and a member of the USA National Dive Team. He also was a gold-medalist on the 3-meter and 10-meter platform at the Maccabiah Games.

Tober graduated from N.C. State in 1978 with a degree in communications.

CATHY SURSI

ASSISTANT COACH
FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND
AUBURN '00

Cathy Sursi joins the Terrapins after spending the last three years coaching at Auburn University. During her time at Auburn, Sursi helped coach the Tigers to five NCAA team championships, two on the women's side and three for the men. She also got to work with multiple Olympic medalists as well as world and American record holders. While at Auburn, her primary responsibilities included on-deck coaching of both men and women, recruiting high school athletes, working with Auburn's equipment sponsors and video analysis.

Maryland is now excited to have her working for the Terps. "Having Cathy's level of experience on my staff will bring an immediate impact on our athletes at both the conference and NCAA level. She combines the elements of a young, up and coming coach with a great female presence on the deck" said Head coach Dave Durden. "Cathy is a great technician of the sport and adds to Maryland's philosophy of cognitive swimming."

Before coaching, Sursi was four year letter winner for Auburn from 1996-2000. She achieved All-American status in the 400IM and 200 breaststroke and was named captain of the Auburn Tigers her junior and senior years. She graduated from Auburn with a bachelor's degree in communications in 2000 and a master's in exercise science in 2004.

2005-06 WOMEN'S OUTLOOK

TERPS LOOK TO BUILD ON SUCCESS OF LAST SEASON

The Maryland women's swimming and diving team has not lost a dual meet since February 8, 2003. Last season, they posted a perfect 11-0 record, including 7-0 in the ACC and became the first women's swimming team in school history to win the ACC Championships. Eight school records fell, including one ACC record, 10 swimmers earned All-ACC honors, six earned Honorable Mention All-American and one earned All-American honors. The team finished the season with the squad's highest-ever national ranking at No. 12.

The returning 20 swimmers will have a new leader at the helm of the program, but will use their talent and experience to continue their tradition of success.

The university hired head coach David Durden on August 18, 2005. Durden, who was the former head assistant coach at Auburn, expects this season to build on the success of last year. The new head coach believes that the 2005-06 team can take the program to the next level.

Gigi deToll

"We have a group of women returning who are very talented. My expectations are to take more swimmers to the NCAA Championships and advance at that national level," Durden said.

This team has proved it can compete with the best swimmers in the NCAA. Three swimmers are returning who earned All-ACC recognition. Gigi deToll returns for her junior year after winning the 100-butterfly at the ACC Championships her freshman and sophomore years. DeToll also qualified for NCAA Championships in the 100-butterfly and looks to continue success this season.

Along with DeToll, Sasha Malanina, an NCAA Championships qualifier in four events and All-ACC team member, returns for her junior season as a Terp. Malanina, who joined the team in January of 2004, will be a contender at the NCAA Championships in the 400-IM and distance freestyle events.

Durden will look to seniors Barbara Sumrall, Inbal Levavi and Krisztina Kovacs to lead the team in and out of the water.

The Terps lost 10 swimmers from last year's team, including six graduating seniors and four transfers. Durden feels that the smaller environment will give freshman Jennifer Fink and Yelena Skalinskaya the opportunity to contribute to the team more quickly.

"Having two incoming freshmen is wonderful for them and the team. Jennifer and Yelena will become integrated into the team more quickly and will become beneficial. They will have the opportunity to step up and be part of this winning group. This season, the identity of the team will not be relied upon by only 10 swimmers, but the entire team," Durden said.

This team may also find that their training program will be different this season. Durden's philosophy in coaching is "doing things at high rates of speed."

"We have to train to race. From the water to the weight room, the team must gain strength and flexibility. The level of student here is high and we must take use that to encourage these swimmers to take swimming into their daily lives. We are going to focus on nutrition, sleep and hydration on a day to day basis," said Durden.

The Terps will also have a new team to compete against this season. With the addition of Boston College into the Atlantic Coast Conference, there will now be 11 teams at the ACC Championships. Durden said "Anytime you add a program to a conference it solidifies the conference to move up and become a top conference. The addition of Boston College is good for the ACC."

Inbal Levavi

The Terps have a busy dual-meet schedule this season, but they will only travel twice to Pittsburgh and NC State.

Durden is excited and ready to have a successful season. "This is a great opportunity and my goal is to create an environment where success is inevitable," he said.

The regular season begins Oct. 21 when the Terps host Virginia Tech, Florida State and Georgia Tech. The Terps will host the ACC Championships on Feb.15-18, for the first time since 2002.

2004-05 WOMEN'S REVIEW

TERPS WIN FIRST ACC TEAM CHAMPIONSHIP

The Maryland women's swimming and diving team concluded a landmark season last March in which they won the program's first-ever ACC Championship. The Terps posted a perfect dual meet record of 11-0, including 7-0 in the conference, going undefeated for the second straight season and finishing the year ranked 12th in the country.

Eight school records fell dunng the 2004-05 season, and several Terrapins nabbed numerous post-season honors.

The Terps started the season strong and never looked back. After easily handling Johns Hopkins (174-51) and Howard (176-37) in the first meet of the season, Maryland dominated the two-day ACC quad meet in Atlanta, breaking five Georgia Tech Aquatic Center records and defeating Florida State (228.5-124.5), new conference member Virginia Tech (240-113) and host Georgia Tech (265-86).

The Terps took a 5-0 record into the three-day Terrapin Cup Invitational and finished first in the 10-team field. Senior Marina Mulyayeva broke her own school record in the 200-yard individual medley (2:00.48) and automatically qualified for the NCAA Championships. She also recorded NCAA `B' cut times in the 100-yard breaststroke, the 100-yard butterfly and the 100-yard freestyle, winning the 100-breast and placing second in both the 100-fly and the 100-free. Mulyayeva also was a member of four of the Terps' winning relays - the 200-free, 200-medley, 400-free and 400-medley. She was named ACC Swimmer of the Week for her achievements.

After a two-month break from competition, the Terps returned home to face ACC rival N.C. State and non-conference opponents Pittsburgh and Villanova in a two-day quad meet. The Terrapins beat the Wolfpack (281-72), Panthers (244-108) and Wildcats (281-65) to run their record to 8-0 and push their winning streak to 19 straight dual meets dating back to the beginning of the 2003-04 season.

The Terps went on the road for the final three meets, traveling to Tobacco Road for meets against Duke and North Carolina, then heading to Charlottesville, Va., to face reigning ACC Champion Virginia.

Maryland defeated the Blue Devils (180-63) a day before taking on the No. 15 Tar Heels. Despite having only beaten North Carolina twice in school history, the Terps won 12 of 14 events and won the meet 175-125.

Now No. 12 Virginia was the only remaining obstacle in No. 13 Maryland's path to perfection for the second straight season, and the two teams battled down to the wire. In the end, the Terps came out with a narrow 119.5-117.5 victory over the Cavaliers. Senior Elizabeth Lavell was named ACC Swimmer of the Week for her performance, in which she won the 500-free with an NCAA 'B' cut, as well as the 1,000-free in a career-best time.

The Terps had been here before. Just like last season, they posted an 11-0 overall record, mowing down every opponent who dared cross them and were poised to win the program's first-ever conference title. But Maryland found bad luck and misfortune at the ACC Championships and finished fourth.

Things would be different this year.

Returning to the Georgia Tech Aquatic Center, where they had much success earlier in the season, the Terrapins got off to a torrid start, winning both relays on the first evening of competition. The 800-free relay (7:13.29) shattered the school record by more than four seconds, and it broke the ACC mark by four-tenths of a second. The 200-medley relay also broke the school record.

After winning only one conference title last season, the Terps came away with 10 in 2005, including all five relays. Senior Chrissy Miller was named Most Valuable Swimmer of the meet, as she won the 100- and 200-free, placed second in the 500-free and was part of three winning relays. Mulyayeva took first in the 200-IM, while Lavell won the 400-IM and sophomore Gigi deToll claimed her second straight 100-fly title.

Ten Terps garnered All-ACC honors for their top-three finishes in each event, as well as the members of each winning relay: Miller (100, 200, 500 free; 400, 800 free relay; 400 medley relay), Lavell (400 IM; 500, 1650 free; 800 free relay), Mulyayeva (200 IM; 200, 400 free relay; 200, 400 medley relay); deToll (100 fly; 200, 400 medley relay); senior Megan Knepper (100, 200 back; 200, 400 free relay; 200, 400 medley relay); senior Cynthia Weir (100 free; 200, 400 free relay; 200 medley relay), sophomore Sasha Malanina (400 IM; 800 free relay), junior Krisztina Kovacs (200 breast), freshman Meghan Sackett (800 free relay) and sophomore Amber Walter (200 free relay).

Nine Terrapins qualified for the NCAA Championships in West Lafayette, Ind., and Maryland finished 22nd with 40 team points. Lavell had the best showing, placing eighth in the 400-IM and 16th in the 500-free, breaking both school records in the process. With her eighth-place finish in the 400-IM, Lavell became the Terps' first All-American since Shandra Johnson in 2003. Lavell also notched Honorable Mention All-American status in the 500-free, as did Knepper (100-back) and deToll (100-fly), who placed 15th in their respective events.

Three Maryland relays also earned honorable mention status at the meet. The 200 medley relay team of Knepper, Mulyayeva, deToll and Weir took 10th, while the 200-free relay team of Miller, Knepper, Weir and Mulyayeva placed 13th and the 400-free relay team of Miller, Knepper, Weir and Mulyayeva finished 16th (3:23.01).

After the season, head coach Jim Wenhold was tabbed ACC Coach of the Year for the first time in his career.

2005-06 MEN'S OUTLOOK

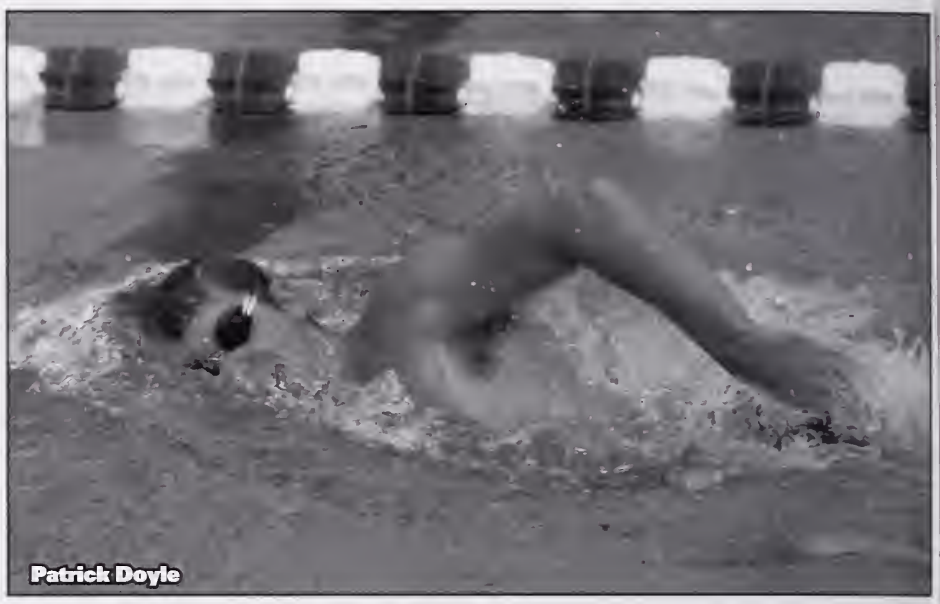
MEN'S TEAM LOOKS FOR IMPROVEMENT

With an excited new head coach and one of the premier facilities in the country, the Maryland men's swimming and diving team is looking to improve on last year's 4-7 record and eighth-place finish at the ACC Championships.

The university hired head coach David Durden on August 18, 2005. Durden was the former head assistant coach of the men's team at Auburn, the 2005 National Champions. The new head coach believes that the 2005-06 team will have a successful season.

"My goal is to create an environment where success is inevitable. There is inherent potential in these guys." said Durden.

The Terps have large shoes to fill in the backstroke, freestyle and breaststroke events. Six seniors graduated, four who were point scorers at the ACC Championships. But Durden sees this as an opportunity for others to lead the team.



Patrick Doyle

"With six seniors leaving, the underclassman will have a chance to step up and become leaders in and out of the water," Durden said.

Durden looks for one swimmer in particular, Martin Ott, to step up and have a successful season. Ott earned All-ACC honors as a freshman for his third-place finish in the 200-IM at the ACC Championships.

"Martin should have a great sophomore year. With the events he swims, he should be looking to compete at the NCAA Championships. Last year, nine out of the 11 top swimmers in the 200-fly at NCAA's were seniors, so now there is room for new people to step up and compete at the national level. I think he has the potential to swim at the national level and eventually score at NCAA's," Durden said.

Durden wants to create an environment where "success is inevitable" for the entire team. He looks to begin building a program where swimmers score at the ACC Championships and eventually qualify for the NCAA Championships. With his wealth of experience including six National Championships, it is obvious he is up for the challenge.

He looks for swimmers like Patrick Doyle, who just missed the final heat at ACCs to step up and score this season. "These guys will have the opportunity to step up this season and compete. Boys naturally get stronger as they get older. So the sophomore will be stronger than the freshmen and so on. This season, I hope to have swimmers score at the NCAA Championships," he said.

In addition to the returning swimmers, the team will have seven freshmen join the squad. "It is exciting to have such a talented group of freshman join the program," Durden said. "We look for them to come in, learn quickly and become valuable members of this team."

This team may also find that their training program will be different this season. Duden's philosophy in coaching is "doing things at high rates of speed."

"We have to train to race. From the water to the weight room, the team must gain strength and flexibility. The level of student here is high and we must take use that to encourage these swimmers to take swimming into their daily lives. We are going to focus on nutrition, sleep and hydration on a day to day basis." said Durden.

The Terps will also have a new team to compete against this season. With the addition of Boston College to the Atlantic Coast Conference, there will now be 11 teams at the ACC Championships.

Martin Ott

"Anytime you add a program to a conference, it solidifies the conference to move up and become a top conference. The addition of Boston College is good for the ACC," Durden said.

The Terps have a busy dual-meet schedule this season, but they will only travel twice to Pittsburgh and NC State.

Durden is excited and ready to have a successful season. "This is a great opportunity and my goal is to create an environment where success is inevitable," he said.

The regular season begins Oct. 21 when the Terps host Virginia Tech, Florida State and Georgia Tech. The Terps will host the ACC Championships on Feb.22-25, for the first time since 2002.

2004-05 MEN'S REVIEW

TERPS WIN FOUR MEETS IN FOURTH STRAIGHT SEASON

The Maryland men's swimming and diving team finished the season with four victories for the fourth year in a row. At 4-7 overall and 1-6 in the ACC, the Terps placed eighth at the conference championship meet in February.

The Terps won their first two dual meets of the season, easily defeating Johns Hopkins (156.5-73.5) and Howard (197-30) at home. Sophomore Kevin Ford (50 and 100 free) and freshmen Martin Ott (200 IM) and Derek Hock (1M and 3M diving) won the first individual events of their careers, and senior Brad Schertle swept the distance events. Seniors Chris Brandenberger, Mike Fried and Erik Weinberg also added solo victories.

Maryland next faced stiff competition at the ACC quad meet in Atlanta and could not pull out an upset over Florida State, host Georgia Tech or new conference member Virginia Tech. Ott (200 IM) and Weinberg (200 back) each notched individual victories.

However, the Terps returned to their winning ways at the Terrapin Cup Invitational two weeks later, where they finished first in the 10-team field. They received strong individual performances from Fried and Brandenberger, who each won two events. Sophomore Tim Shepard also notched the first victory of his career.

Erik Weinberg

After a two-month break from competition, Maryland returned home to host a two-day quad meet against ACC rival N.C. State and non-conference opponents Pittsburgh and Villanova. The Terps put up a strong showing, defeating the Wildcats (300-51) and narrowly falling to the Wolfpack (178-169) and No. 23 Panthers (199.5-153.5). Weinberg swept the backstroke events, Ott won the 400 IM and freshman newcomer Stefan Geisen claimed the first victory of his career (200 free).

Next the Terps headed to Tobacco Road to take on conference foes Duke and North Carolina. Maryland dominated the Blue Devils (144-96), picking up its first ACC win of the season. Fried led the way, sweeping the sprint events. The Terrapins did not fair as well against the No. 19 Tar Heels the following day, losing 207-93.

In the final dual meet of the regular season, the Terps fell to No. 10 Virginia, the reigning ACC Champions, 158-78. Shepard recorded Maryland's only individual victory of the afternoon.

The Terrapins were confident heading into the four-day ACC Championships meet in Atlanta. Maryland finished eighth with 273 points. Weinberg won the conference title in the 200-yard backstroke, breaking his own school record. He became the first Terp to win a conference crown since diver Kevin Burke in 1999.

Weinberg (200 back) and Ott (200 IM) earned All-ACC honors for their top-three finishes at the meet. Ott broke three school records over the weekend, finishing third in the 200-IM and fourth in both the 400-IM and the 200-butterfly. Weinberg also reset his own 200-back mark.

With his time in the 200-back, Weinberg qualified for the NCAA Championships in Minneapolis, Minn., becoming the first Terp to do so since Burke in 1999. He placed 24th at the meet.

"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.

2005-06 MARYLAND SWIMMING & DIVING

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

THE CAMPUS

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 79 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2004 enrollment was 25,140 undergraduate and 9,793 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

DID YOU KNOW?

In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 79 programs ranked among the nation's elite, and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at traditionally white schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 16 among the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 8 in information technology, No. 6 in faculty research and No. 7 in entrepreneurship.

In the undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report both the A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 17) and the College of Education (No. 22) were ranked among the top 25.

DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
EIGHTH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state-of-the-art sports complex; a high-tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

DEBORAH A. YOW

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR • 12TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow has just completed the 11th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's 11 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable nine NCAA national championships and graduated its student athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She was honored in December, 2004, by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics, and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics." She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Ha of Fame.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Managemer Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiat athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, sh and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all 11 of the department's annua budgets (the first balanced budgets in the 1 years prior to her arrival). The budget has no reached $53 million annually and the multi-millio dollar accumulated operating debt which he administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic suppor services provided for student-athletes, with a enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate c approximately 85 percent for student athletes a Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports rankin in the upper seven percent of all NCAA Division institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raisin efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a resul private gifts to athletics have increased ove 350% and corporate sponsorship revenues hav increased by over 300 percent during her tenur at Maryland.

IN DECEMBER OF 2004, DEBORAH A. YOW WAS NAMED ONE OF THE MOST INFLUENTIAL PEOPLE IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS BY STREET & SMITH'S SPORTS BUSINESS JOURNAL.

- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the dramatic upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team has appeared in 11 of the last 12 NCAA Tournaments, one of only six schools to do so.
- Women's basketball also won its way to the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and 2005, advancing to the second round.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004.
  Additionally, Maryland is one of only six universities to win a National Championship in both basketball and football (UCLA, Michigan, Michigan State, Syracuse, Ohio State and Maryland).
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics in 2004, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the new women's basketball coach. In her third season at the helm, her team drew more than 17,243 to a regular-season game and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in his second year.
- Field Hockey played for the National Championship in 2001 and continues to be a Final Four team.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways with seven national championships from 1995-2001, with additional Final Four appearances.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.

Debbie Yow is in her 12th year as Maryland's athletics director.

- The Terrapins have moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- In 2004-05, 13 Maryland teams competed in NCAA postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 11 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University from 1990 through 1994.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by assistant athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Kathy Fueston (right) works with the women's basketball team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of ILP programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, three learning specialist, and a graduate assistant; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campu local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athlete Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboratic with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete base on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletica and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills PROGRAM

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and socia responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for th purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS COMMITMENT STATEMENTS

Commitment to Academic Excellence To support the academic progress of the student athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.

Commitment to Athletic Excellence To build philosophical foundations for the developmen of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of th student-athlete.

Commitment to Personal Development To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision making skills.

Commitment to Career Development To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Commitment to Service To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

CAMPUS RECREATION CENTER

Opened on Jan. 31, 1998, the Campus Recreation Center Natatorium at the University of Maryland is one of the premier swimming and diving venues in the country. Featured in such national publications as Swimming Technique and International Aquatics magazines, the Campus Recreation Center Natatorium not only benefits the Maryland swimming and diving teams, but also the University of Maryland community itself.

The Campus Recreation Center Natatorium was part of the $40 million Campus Recreation Center. It features one 50x25-yard pool with two movable bulkheads and an underwater sound system. There are two one-meter diving boards and two three-meter diving platforms. The natatorium pool holds more than 1.5 million gallons of water.

With seating for more than 1,000 spectators, the Campus Recreation Center Natatorium has and will play host to such national and regional events as the 1999 and 2002 ACC Championships and the YMCA Nationals in the summer of 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004. The 1999 and 2000 FINA World Cups were held at the Campus Recreation Center Natatorium, making it the focus of national and international attention during the championships. The facility also hosted the 2003 USA Swimming Summer Long Course National Championships.

In addition to the natatorium, the Campus Recreation Center also has fitness and weight-lifting equipment, indoor basketball and volleyball courts, and an indoor track. A large outdoor pool complements the Campus Recreation Center and Natatorium, finishing a facility that is one of a kind and can only be found at the University of Maryland.

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA GUIDELINES

Credentials: Media and photographer credentials for events at Maryland's Campus Recreational Natatorium may be obtained by working press, radio and television by writing or calling Kate Homan in the Maryland Athletic Media Relations Office, 2725 Comcast Center, College Park, MD 20741-0295. All requests should be submitted at least 48 hours prior to the event by phoning the Media Relations Office at (301) 314-7068. Since space is limited, accommodations are on a priority basis: daily newspapers and wire services, originating radio and television stations, national weekly or monthly publications, electronic media outlets, local and regional television crews. Priority is granted to members of the media who cover Maryland athletics on a regular basis, and to visiting media members. Photo passes will be issued only to accredited photographers on assignment.

Services: The Media Relations Office will provide complete statistics at the conclusion of every home meet. Programs containing rosters and event notes on each team will be provided for the working media.

Fax Machine: The Media Relations Office has one facsimile machine, located in Room 2725 of Comcast Center, which is available upon request. The fax number is (301) 314-9094.

Terps on the Web: For up-to-date game stories, statistics, schedules and results, and other Maryland athletic department information, please locate www.umterps.com on the Internet.

TROY TUCKER — SWIMMING SUPERVISOR

ASSOCIATE AD/ADMINISTRATION

Troy Tucker joined the Terrapins in August 2004 as the Associate Athletics Director for Administration after spending the previous 12 years as the Director of Athletics at Jamestown Community College, D'Youville College and most recently, Herkimer County Community College. In his role at Maryland, Tucker oversees the women's soccer, field hockey and swimming programs in addition to supervising the Media Relations Unit.

During his tenure at Herkimer from 1999-2004, Tucker operated the 21-sport, nationally competitive program with a balanced budget. He also oversaw the renovations of nine different facilities. Under Tucker's direction, Herkimer earned three-consecutive top-10 finishes in the Region III Director's Cup and finished 2003-04 ranked fifth among junior college athletic programs in the nation by NATYCAA Pepsi Cup. Three teams won five NJCAA National Championships and four won 13 regional titles. His teams also earned eight NJCAA Academic Team of the Year awards with the women's swimming & diving squad garnering the honor three times.

Prior to his tenure at Herkimer, Tucker was the Director of Athletics and Head Men's Basketball Coach at D'Youville College in Buffalo, N.Y., from 1996-99. While there, he headed the expansion of the athletics program from three to 11 teams, and was named National Athletic Director of the Year in 1998. At his arrival, Tucker oversaw the department's move to NCAA Division III status.

While serving as Director of Athletics at Herkimer, Tucker was also the Head Men's Basketball Coach for four seasons before becoming an Associate Dean in his final year. During the 2000-01 campaign, he was named Coach of the Year after his squad qualified for the Region III Championships for the first time in seven years, winning its frist-round game.

A native of Scio, N.Y., Tucker began his collegiate career as an administrator at Jamestown-Olean Community College where he served from 1992-96. During his time there, he helped initiate the college's athletic program and was also the Jaguars' Head Men's Basketball Coach for a year.

Tucker is a 1991 graduate of SUNY Geneseo where he earned a bachelor of science in business. In 1992, he earned his master's from Springfield in athletics administration. Tucker and his wife, Rhonda, have a son, Griffin, and a daughter, Haley.
